Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Forward Deployed Engineer (FDE) position at PromptQL. Your mission to drive customer innovation and growth through agentic AI solutions aligns perfectly with my passion for architecting and implementing transformative AI and data projects at enterprise scale. I am inspired by the opportunity to serve as a strategic advisor and hands-on executor, guiding customers through their entire AI transformation journey.

Why I'm Excited About PromptQL

PromptQL's focus on blending deep technical expertise with customer-facing skills to deliver disruptive AI transformation is especially motivating. The chance to work with industry leaders and enterprise organizations, enabling them to elevate their AI ambitions and deliver real business impact, aligns perfectly with my experience and aspirations.

Relevant Experience & Impact

AI Solution Architecture & Technical Delivery - Over 20 years of experience in technical pre-sales, post-sales implementation, and professional services roles (Barclays, McKinsey, Biophy, Yotascale, Boomi, etc.) - Proven track record as a Principal Architect and Technical Delivery Lead, designing, building, and implementing generative AI applications and complex data projects at enterprise scale - Direct experience with large language models, vector databases, AI orchestration frameworks, and data access technologies - Deep knowledge of MLOps, DataOps, API development, and modern data transformation techniques

Customer Engagement & Expansion - Led consultative technical engagements, building trust-based relationships with technical and business stakeholders - Successfully identified and captured expansion opportunities in existing accounts through services-led delivery - Exceptional communication skills, translating complex technical concepts for diverse audiences and driving customer success

Enterprise Data Ecosystems & Modern Architectures - Experience delivering complex, data-oriented projects involving multiple stakeholders and technologies - Strong understanding of enterprise data ecosystems, API integration patterns, and scalable architectures - History of thriving in high-ambiguity, fast-moving startup environments, and a self-starter mindset

Why I'm a Strong Fit for PromptQL

My experience architecting and delivering AI and data solutions, combined with my customer-obsessed mindset and ability to thrive in dynamic environments, positions me to make a significant impact as a Forward Deployed Engineer at PromptQL. I am eager to help your customers realize the full potential of AI-powered transformation and drive growth through innovative, hands-on technical leadership.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my background and vision align with PromptQL's mission and how I can contribute to your continued success.

Sincerely,

Yongjun Rong
